LONDON, Dec. 1.—Great Britain today sternly informed Japan that she must keep hands off the international settlement in Shanghai.

Backing up parallel protests by the United States, France, and Britain, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons London "will not recognize the right of any power to take unilateral action" regarding the settlement's administration.

Eden spoke with equal determination on Japan's announced intention of controlling the Shanghai customs income.

Seeing a workman climb a ladder with nothing for the ladder to lean against is a novel sight for many who visit the downtown district. The ladder is of the aerial type and is mounted on a truck of the Pennsylvania Power company. It is used at present in looking after the electric bulbs attached to cross sections of the Christmas decorations on Washington street. The ladder is firmly anchored at the base and supports a man even when inclined at a considerable angle.

Shoppers will save time and energy as well as frequent trips to the chiropodist during the Christmas season if they will shop the easy way. Instead of walking miles and miles through stores looking for what they want, if they will only look over the display columns of The News they will find it, and know exactly where to go to get it. You will be surprised at the wide range of articles that are advertised and the low prices that are asked. Try shopping the easy way and ease your corn patch.

Gilda Gray, "shimmy" dancer who sprung into notoriety for her rendition of the "Charleston" and "Black Bottom", has been visiting out in Colorado, where the air is light and the snow capped Rockies glisten in the sun. She likes it so well she says that she will buy a ranch and settle down. Marion Talley, the sweet singer, had the same idea once and settled down on a farm but it didn't take, and now she's back on the stage. If Gilda buys her ranch she'll likely find that shimmying a churn handle is a lot different from wiggling on the stage. Gilda will be sorry if she discards her "shimmy".

Congress Special Session Apparently Bogged Down

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Roosevelt's special session of congress, which he called to speedily enact an emergency legislative program to aid business and agriculture, was bogged deep today in the mire of its own quarrels and differences. So much so, in fact, it seemed doubtful if the session could complete any legislation before the regular session begins in January.

Nearly half of the legislative days of the special session have slipped away, and both houses are floundering around in sonorous, but frequently acrimonious oratory.

Near Hopeless Task.

The leaders talk bravely in public of putting the president's program through in the 18 legislative days left of the session, but such talk is for the record. Privately, they concede it is an almost hopeless task, what with both houses snarled up in sectional jealousies, Democratic factional warfare, and all the old animosities that wrecked the last session. Tempers that were

Pittsburgh Man Fails To Listen To Pleadings Of Paralyzed Wife

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1—While his partially blind and paralyzed wife pleaded with him not to do it, William Gillespie, 35, shot his friend, Fred Burton, 32, and then sent a bullet crashing into his own head, police reported today.

Gillespie fell dead at the foot of his invalid wife, Helen, 30.

Burton staggered from the Gillespie's one-room apartment and collapsed on the sidewalk. Taken to a hospital physicians said he would recover, barring complications.

Mrs. Gillespie told homicide detectives that a long drinking bout preceded the shooting. The Gillespie's only son, William 9, and Betty Jane Burton, 5 year old daughter, slept through the shooting, undisturbed.

Welcome Given Earle And Party

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 1. — Undimmed by a light snowstorm, an elaborate civic welcome was given today to Governor George Earle of Pennsylvania and his party.

The streets were gaily beflagged and thousands, led by Count Folke Bernadotte, chairman of the city council, turned out to greet the Americans. Representatives of the American Legion and Spanish War veterans were present, and Stockholm college choirs sang the two countries' national anthems.

Following a visit to Premier Hansson, Earle and his party were luncheon guests of the new Sweden committee in a medieval tavern, "Golden Peace."

Holds Inquest In Kruse Deaths

Coroner Potter Has Formal Inquiry Into Harlansburg Crossing Crash

FIND DRIVER FAILED TO STOP

Formal inquiry into the deaths of John E. Kruse, and his wife, Rose I. Kruse, which resulted from a collision at Harlansburg between the Krause car and a truck driven by Lawrence Mellon, of Mercer, on November 15, took place last evening before Coroner Orville Potter in the office of Alderman James C. Brice.

The coroner's jury, after hearing the testimony of witnesses, brought in a verdict that the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Kruse were due to the failure of Mrs. Kruse, who was the driver of the car, to observe the stop sign at the intersection of Route 108 and Route 19, on the left-hand by-pass.

State Embarks Upon New Labor Experiment Providing 44-Hour Week

By TONY S. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 1—Pennsylvania today embarked officially upon the greatest labor experiment in his history—the 44-hour week.

Unfettered by the threat of immediate enforcement, Pennsylvania industry began the task of placing some 1,500,000 of its workers on schedules of five and a half eight hour days per week.

Despite the fact that state industrial board has announced a month's "grace" period for compliance, Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of labor and industry, said employers who have received their regulations are expected to comply immediately with the provisions of the act.

Enforcement Starts January 3

"There will be no legal enforcement of the act until after January 3, 1938," Bashore said. "After that violators of the law will be justly prosecuted."

Family Flees Burning Home This Morning

Residence Of W. P. Workman, Pulaski Township, Is Completely Destroyed

FURNITURE BURNED; LOSS AROUND $8000

Forced into the chilly night scantily clad, W. P. Workman and family of Pulaski township, barely escaped with their lives when the Workman home was completely destroyed by fire about 4 o'clock this morning. The fire was discovered by Mildred Workman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Workman, the three being the only occupants in the house.

Miss Workman was awakened by a feeling of suffocation and immediately realized that her room was full of smoke. She cried to other members of the family. The house was so badly filled with smoke that the trio had difficulty in finding their way out. Scarcely were they out when the home burst into flames. It was impossible to re-enter and nothing could be saved.

Neighbors Seek To Aid

Neighbors were soon on the grounds and a telephone message to Constable Robert McClenahan at New Bedford brought help from the village. Nothing could be done to save the house but a bucket brigade was formed and the barn was saved.

The Workman residence was located a short distance off the New Castle-New Bedford road, about one mile from New Bedford. It was a large eight room structure, and one of the best houses in the township.

It was well furnished throughout, and the loss on house and furniture is estimated to be around $8,000, with insurance of about $2,000, according to reports.

It is not definitely known how the fire originated but it is believed to have started from a defective flue.

The Workman family was given shelter among friends until other arrangements can be made.

Young Hunter Dies Of Wounds

Clarence Schuler, Of New Bedford, Dies In Hospital Tuesday Afternoon

WAS INJURED ON NOVEMBER 8

Lockjaw, which developed suddenly Tuesday resulted in the death of Clarence Schuler, aged 17, of New Bedford, who has been in the Jamison Memorial hospital, undergoing treatment for a gunshot wound of the right chest, accidentally inflicted by a companion, Brunt Doyle, while the two were hunting near the Schuler home, a half mile north of New Bedford, November 8. The youth passed away Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Although his wound was a serious one, the charge having entered the chest and torn away a part of the lung, young Schuler had been recovering from its effects, and was believed out of danger. The charge had carried bits of his clothing and pieces of his leather jacket into the wound, and it was this which is believed to have caused the lockjaw to develop yesterday.

The two boys had chased a rabbit into brush pile which skirted the Schuler property, and Doyle had placed his shotgun on the ground, while they tried to scare the rabbit out. When it jumped out and started to run, Doyle is said to have picked up his shotgun suddenly, which was discharged, the contents striking Schuler at close range.

The young accident victim was born in Northside Pittsburgh on November 21, 1920, son of Earl and Eleanor Keller Schuler. The family

SHANGHAI, Dec. 1.—Japanese apologies and explanations today "closed" the potentially grave international incident resulting from seizure of an American tug boat—but a new incident arose to take its place.

Calming resentment which swept Shanghai's American colony, the Japanese returned the American craft, the Feiting, which had been seized by Japanese sailors who hauled down the American flag, and explained that any insult to the stars and stripes had not been deliberate.

Farm Bill Debate Is Continuing

Abandon Hope Of Early Action

Barkley Predicts Senate Debate Will Extend At Least Week Longer

DISSENTION ON MANY FEATURES

By ROBERT A. McGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Congressional leaders today abandoned hope of prompt enactment of senate and house farm bills as they became submerged under controversial amendments and substitute proposals.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley predicted debate in the senate would continue throughout the week. Speaker Bankhead, serving notice there would be no attempt to limit the bill's discussion in the house, also predicted a final vote probably would not be reached until next week.

The senate and house meanwhile, listened to general debate and explanation of the complicated bills with little indication of voting on amendments and counter proposals before Friday or Saturday.

Ninth Day of Debate.

The senate entered its ninth day of debate on its bill with Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma fighting for incorporation of his monetary stabilization program. His amendment would empower the Federal Reserve board to further decrease the value of the dollar.

"In order to make substantial progress in solving the farm problem," Thomas said, "the government must have the power to control dollar values as well as price levels."

As Thomas presented his plan, a large bi-partisan bloc swung to support of a substitute bill offered by Senator Lee (D) of Oklahoma. It would approach the problem of increasing the living standard of the farmer through a domestic allotment subsidy program instead of acreage control.

In the house dissention of compulsory marketing features of the bill increased. One group headed by Rep. Patman (D) of Texas, claimed nearly 100 members, was considering supporting a proposal to substitute a parity price measure for the bill. The Patman bloc planner to meet tomorrow to make a final decision on its course.

Another group of approximately 50 corn belt members headed by Rep. Lucas (D) of Illinois, sought support for their proposal to reduce the point at which marketing quotas on corn would become effective, from 2,900,000,000 to 2,600,000,000 bushels.

and the victims of the crash had been removed to the hospital when he arrived at the scene.

He told of the position of the cars, the extent of the damage, and the weather conditions. It had been drizzling and the road was wet, Yahner stated. The truck which Mellon had been driving, was turned around and was headed in a westerly direction. It had been struck directly in the front of the machine by the Kruse car, which had gone off the road. The collision had occured a few feet north of the center lines of the intersection, where the by-pass from Route 108 meets Route 19, on the east side of the road coming from Slippery Rock.

Truck Driver Testifies

Mellon stated that he was hauling coal from a bank near Portersville to Mercer. He had a load of around 7,500 pounds on his truck. He said he did not see the Kruse car until he was about 50 feet from the intersection, and at first thought that it would stop at the intersection. When he saw that is was not going to, he tried to swing his truck to the left, and as he did so, the Kruse car seemed to follow him around, and crashed into the front of the truck. The collision jammed the doors shut in the cab of the truck and he had to crawl out a window, Mellon said.

There was a car following him closely, which stopped after the collision, and he asked the occupants to summon an ambulance. He stated that he did not see them afterwards, when he looked for them. There were no other witnesses to the crash.

Dr. William J. Hinkson, told of treating Mr. and Mrs. Kruse in the Jameson Memorial hospital, where they were brought following the accident. Mrs. Kruse died apparently of a fractured skull, without regaining consciousness, at 5:15 p. m. on November 15; while Mr. Kruse passed away at 6:30 p. m., the same day, having received a punctured lung from several fractured ribs. It was impossible to operate to relieve the condition resulting from the puncture because of the shock, Mr. Kruse being an elderly man, 75 years of age, and could not have withstood the treatment, the doctor stated.

How quickly the seasons seem to slip away. Here we are today writing December 1 . The first day of the last month of the dying year. ## FLAG INCIDENT REPORTS SENT TO PRESIDENT forthcoming from the White House yacht. It was understood, however, that Mr. Roosevelt looked upon the incident with grave eyes.

The Roosevelt fishing party remained at anchor this morning off Dry Tortugas Island, site of a Civil War "Alcatraz" where Dr. Samuel Mudd, was confined for ten years on charges of being a conspirator with John Wilkes Booth in the assassination of Lincoln.

According to a late bulletin from Secretary James Roosevelt to Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre, in charge of the land base here, WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins was leading the fishermen—despite the fact he is a poor sailor and doesn't like fishing.

"Found excellent fishing," radioed the president's son. "Will remain for night. Hopkins leading fisherman but lead slight. The president enjoying warm air although little sun and finishing much work on deck."

CONGRESS SPECIAL SESSION IS BOGGED

at boiling point last August are getting hot again.

Here is the status of the principal legislative items on the program at the near-halfway mark:

Farm: The senate hurriedly produced its own bill, which its author, Senator Smith (D) of South Carolina, naively admitted he did not altogether understand, and had some doubts as to its efficacy. The house wrote its bill, quite different. Both bills have been heavily attacked in debate. It is expected each house will enact its own measure, and then an entirely new bill will have to be worked out in conference. That will take considerable time.

Wage-hour: Still bottled up in the recalcitrant rules committee of the house by a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans. The leadership has been unable to pry it loose, even by the petition method. As a result there is a sectional war between southern and northern Democrats and between members from the industrial centers and rural states.

Big city Democrats who want the measure are now threatening to bolt on farm legislation in retaliation for southern insurgency on the wage-hour bill, "to get even with the cotton boys".

Reorganization: Still kicking around in committees, where it has been since President Roosevelt proposed it early in the year. If and when it is taken up, it will mean a long battle.

Anti-Lynching: Southern Democrats are prepared to begin another filibuster against the bill just as soon as it comes up, which it does automatically, after the farm bill. They are determined to prevent a vote on it this session, notwithstanding two-thirds of the senate are committed to it. The southerners will talk from now until adjournment if necessary, thus stopping everything else.

Taxation: Wheels slowly turning toward modification of the capital gains and corporate surplus taxes early next year.

Housing: The machinery has just started to grind.

Most, if not all of this program, is going to have to slide over into the January session for completed action, there to get tangled up with the regular business of relief, consideration of the budget, regular appropriations, and the usual mine-run of other legislation.

The leaders are contemplating qutting on Dec. 22 for the Christmas-New Year holidays, to meet on Jan. 3. They consider they might as well, because they doubt if they can keep sufficient of the "boys" here to get quorums.

And, privately, they are saying "we told you so", because they did not want Mr. Roosevelt to call this special session.

WHY THEY ARE HIGH

BIG headlines in some newspapers recently indicated that the president was about to authorize an investigation into the high cost of living, with the inference that much of it was being caused by monopolies.

We hold no brief for monopolies, and can only remember that the invalidated NRA seemed a vehicle for their development. But it occurs to us that perhaps the administration might find causes nearer home for the rise in prices. Among these we might mention higher costs of production due to shorter hours and higher wages, the sit-down strikes, increased taxes, artificial restriction of development of commodities by the Department of Agriculture, legislation in various states to permit price fixing of certain advertised brands, and a sixty-cent dollar.

We favor higher wages, of course, but we realize that they are only a healthful development when they are brought about by natural expansion of business. We have some New Deal authority for believing this. Prof. Leo Wolman, ace administration labor expert, told the New England Conference of Governors recently that the administration labor program has failed and he criticized the experimenters. Among other things Prof. Wolman said:

"And now that the general volume of production and employment is declining, the formula of raising the price of labor and reducing the hours of work as a means of controlling the volume of unemployment and of maintaining business prosperity is seen to have failed once more.

"The doctrine and policy on which we have acted in the past few years has failed to take into consideration the capacity of business and industry to absorb new and increasing costs. The reduction of eight hours, or one day a week, in the length of the work week, and rise of close to 60 per cent in the price of manufacturing labor, entail burdens of costs which can be absorbed only at peak production or under conditions of rapidly rising prices. When these factors are absent the recent changes in wages and hours may well—as they have no doubt already done in the building and transportation industries—lead to reduced margin of profit, stationary or declining employment, and the perpetuation of an exceptionally high rate of unemployment."

The first New Deal administration was devoted to raising prices and incidentally production costs. Mr. Roosevelt himself said it had to be done. Now it seems the second administration is to be devoted to finding out what caused high prices. Is it possible that among our New Dealers the right hand has not been acquainted with what the southpaw was doing?

HOME BUILDING PROGRAM

One of the plans mentioned by the president for restoring business, and it is admitted freely now that we have had an economic relapse, is to stimulate the building of homes, an industry which is now in recession.

Nobody can dispute the advisability of home building. Above all other people the Americans are a nation of home builders. The American home, and the wide diffusion of ownership, form one of the bulwarks against communism.

The problem, however, is not simply one of furnishing money to those who want to build. Many other elements enter into it.

There are pending developments which, right or wrong, will tend to increase the cost of home building rather than to lower it. First among these may be placed the wages and hours bill. The purpose of these bills is to increase the American wage scale and with it the cost of building materials and the wages of the builders. The railroads have asked for an increase in freight rates, and this, if granted, will be another factor in increasing the cost of building, because of the rise in freight rates for handling building material.

Another element entering into the cost of building and maintaining a home is taxation. It is generally admitted that the home owner pays far more than his share in taxes. This is generally the fault of the local community which fixes the tax rates. But the cost of building is increased by indirect national taxes, too, for these all have a hand in increasing the cost of commodities, including building materials.

Boosting home building will not be a simple problem of advancing credit. The intricate and confusing problem of mounting costs enters into it, too.

MASTERY OF THE EAST

Japan's progress in China, which must be recognized even by those hostile to her purposes as being consistent and substantial, and her indication of what she considers as the legitimate fruits of victory, point clearly to a pretentious objective. There can no longer be any doubt that Japan contemplates the domination of the Orient.

The Japanese government, through its spokesmen in China, has demanded "virtually complete control" of the great commercial city and port of Shanghai. It would take over bodily the courts, the maritime customs, the mails and telegraphs and other administrative services. There is also suggested the possibility that Japan will demand the right to send its troops into the International Settlement and the French Concession, which would, in effect, give Japan military control of these neutral sources as well.

Japan is not merely presenting a program of purposes and objectives. She is proceeding with their attainment. She is moving affirmatively to assume complete charge of the governmental and economic activities of the native sections of Shanghai and to take over the customs service.

These activities are important in themselves and also are significant as signs and portents of what the future holds. The predatory operations of Japan in China menace the interests of all nations in the Orient. Particularly, however, they strike at England, whose far-flung empire in the east now falls beneath the ominous shadow of Japan, whose native recklessness and unrestrained ambitions are being given new impetus by the success attending her latest venture into the realm of international banditry.

CLASSES IN EXPRESSION

Wise teachers, especially teachers of oral expression, are coming to realize that they will succeed as they put less emphasis on the mechanics of speaking and more emphasis on how the speaker feels—on the emotional atmosphere of the classroom.

There has just come to my desk from a reader of this column, a few pages which I wish I could put into the hands of every teacher and parent. The document is headed "Classes in Creative Expression." It is addressed to the young pupils. Apparently it is what the teacher says to them. It is the psychology and point of view that appeals to me. I wish I had space for all of it. To quote a few snatches:

"Each one of us may have some very important quality inside that must some day come out.....

"We are all different, and we want to find out that thing that each one of us can do best, and then spend some time each week in thinking about it and helping it to come out.....

Understanding Important

"We want to grow up to be happy and lovable people. We want lots of friends and we want our schoolmates to love to be with us and to remember us long after we have left school. We want especially to be courteous and polite to those we meet every day. We want to be very considerate of Mother and Daddy and it would be grand if we could learn to be patient and gentle with younger brothers and sisters.....

"It will be wonderful to talk sometimes, and to find poems and stories and to play games about UNDERSTANDING...that's a very important word, too. It means trying to think why people do things, and not getting cross and laughing at them. We shall find this easy to do if we try to put ourselves in the other person's place and say: "How would I feel?' We shall try not to feel jealous of other people's good fortune, but tell them how pleased we are.

"It will be such fun to pick out the best poems and the best stories, and to discuss the lovely pictures and music that have been created for our enjoyment....."

THAT FACE OF OURS

Greta Garbo (or her press agent) said an interesting thing the other day.

It seems that this woman, whom hundreds of millions have looked at on the screen, does not like to look at herself. She has one mirror in her dressing room, one mirror in her home, but does not look into them except when it is necessary. When she dresses or is being made up for a part, she may look at herself in a glass but only for professional reasons. And she says:

"It is not good to get so used to one's face."

As the youngsters say, Miss Garbo has something there.

If I had a face like hers, I would not mind looking at it; but since I have a face like mine I don't see why I should spend my time looking at it, except to see whether I've left a patch of lather on my right ear when I shave...or when I cut it and the foolish thing will not stop bleeding.

After all, the average face isn't so much. Two eyes. A nose. A mouth. A pair of ears. Some hair, if you're lucky. A chin, more or less. Perhaps a dimple or a moustache. And an area of skin.

And yet, this face announces us to the world. Here is the record of what we have been, how we have lived, what defeats have been ours, what victories we have won. Those pouches under the eyes may tell of self-indulgence or of illness. Those lines are laughter wrinkles or indications of despair...Here we have written the long history of our lives. If we have been strong, the record is here. If we have been weak, it shows in our faces. If we have avoided life, danced lightly away from it, the smoothness of our face betrays us to the casual observer. Here is cowardice, here is brutality, here is valiant and unselfish endeavor.

And the lady is right when she says: "It is not good to get so used to one's face."

If we could see it as it is, it would not be so bad to scrutinize it daily. But we rarely do. We look at it with too much vanity, or with too much self-preservation. Looking at it too often, we are caught by it, we are unable to get away from all we have been. It is a drag on us and that old familiar face says to us: "This is what you are and this is all that you can ever be."...Such nonsense.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:36. Sun rises tomorrow 7:04.

When the Hints and Dints Man was a boy people did not care how long they worked just as long as they got paid for it. Now it seems that people don't want to work at all, but still want to be paid, but they don't offer any good suggestions as to how the money might be raised to keep on paying them for doing nothing. A lot of legislators are doing nothing to help the matter along either, except to increase taxes.

"Oh, I don't mind these few drops" replied the man.

"Who cares about that," bellowed the farmer. "We want every drop of that rain to fall upon Texas."

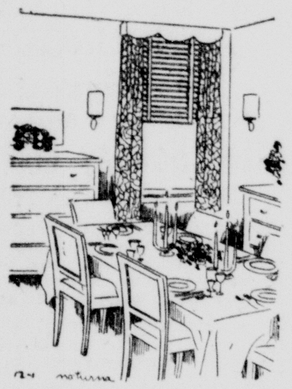
Reg. U. S. Patent Office



By Francine Markel

Dear Miss Markel: We are doing our dining room over and will be grateful for your hints as to how best to arrange the lights.

Answer: Because the table is the center of interest, the lighting should be concentrated upon it. A general illumination thus being out of place in a dining room, a high central fixture that throws light upon the ceiling should be avoided. Moreover, ceiling lights always give a less agreeable light than low ones.

The very best lights for dining tables are candles. They produce the most interesting reflections and shadows and a general effect that makes the table seem like an intimate center.

Medical System Discussed. Writer Debates Progressiveness. "Human Material" Waste Deplored.

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist

TO THOSE of moderate circumstances who have had illness in their family there comes a belief that the American medical system is archaic and needlessly ineffective. Many persons have expressed this thought to me, and I agree. I agree, even though my family has a physician or two within it, and even though I know the financial difficulties of hospitals.

American industry has gone ahead by leaps and bounds, social evolution has given many new benefits, but the medical world remains in a past century, largely because of a fear that its livelihood and independence will be endangered.

Physicians complain to me of their own increasing difficulties, of their large amount of free work. But they do not seem to realize that those difficulties will increase, not decrease, unless the medical profession joins with the government (and society in general) in making medicine a public institution, for the benefit of the entire race. Professional men shy at that as "socialism" or "communism"—but the fact remains that even a capitalist nation must somehow bring medicine into coordination with all other developments, else industrial development itself will suffer too great a handicap to proceed.

AN INDUSTRIAL NECESSITY

As one who has been connected with industrial plants the larger part of his life, I believe that governmental medicine will become a necessity. Even if we cast aside all the social responsibilities of government and industry (which, of course, cannot be cast aside), the well-being of the race remains as necessary as raw resources, industrial plants, armaments and wealth. Unless the well-being of its people is a major consideration, a nation becomes second-rate, then third-rate, then is overrun, conquered.

It seems a criminal waste that, because of poverty, much of our population not only cannot save itself from ills, but death. Think of the waste, not only in human life, but in the loss to industry and to government We have millions of dependents who did not have to be.

Governmental control of medicine will have to be a far broader undertaking than the mere giving of free treatment and prescriptions, which the physicians seem to fear as "intrusion into their profession"—i. e., eliminating some fees. Governmental control will have to begin at the very bottom, through home, factory, office, educating people to the healthy, and co-ordinating factory practices with the best interests of health.

One can hear the roars of "Socialism!" "Communism!" over that. Yet—educating people to become healthy, and giving them an opportunity at reasonable costs to become healthy, will develop an entire new source of clientele for the physicians; thorough medical treatment then will not be for the few, but for the many. And even the few, who die early despite their wealth because they drive themselves, may learn how to live. As for the second suggestion, co-ordinating factory practices with the best interests of health—that will be termed by many employers as "more government intrusion". As a man who has had a great deal to do with factories, I should welcome any proposal that would improve the human element. It might double production.

KEEP THE HERITAGE

Strange people, these Americans, or so it must seem to the newspaper readers in countries where the dictator reigns supreme!

Recently returning travelers from Europe bring with them strange tales of the manufactured news which misinforms the Russians about the Germans, the Germans about the Russians, the Italians about the French—and misinforms all of them about the United States!

Observe some of the fantastic myths spun by the dictator-edited press. Newspapers in Italy have spread the story that every American who can afford it always travels with a bodyguard of one to ten men to protect himself from ever-present thugs and gunmen!

Another country which has been the target of shafts from the dictators' controlled press has been democratic France. Hapless readers, fed on the barren grist of manufactured misinformation, are told France is being ravaged by starvation and that its hunger-crazed populace has been driven to eating rats and mice!

America, Russians are informed, trembles on the the verge of revolution, for living conditions, wages and technology—the Russians are told—are so markedly inferior to Russia's!

This, however, is only a swift bird's-eye view of the amazing legends fostered by the dictators to make their people content, with the poor bargain in government destiny has dealt them. In getting that bargain, newspapers have been deprived of their high estate as guardians of the truth and opponents of oppression.

That, of course, is not our concern, but to know of these things helps us treasure more deeply the freedom that is America's.

SIGNS

When the women start to wonder
If my gloves are "eights" or under
Or approximately "sevens"
Are the socks I wear "elevens?"
Then it's just as plain as day,
Christmas shopping's under way.

When they look me up and down
As a seamstress eyes a gown
I can tell this earthly globe
I'm being measured for a robe.
To myself "Oho!" I say,
Christmas shopping's under way

When it suddenly occurs
To the girls to speak of furs
In a very casual way,
Such as "fox is cheap today!"
Then the web is being spun
Christmas hinting has begun.

When the conversation swings
Upon most expensive things
And they slyly watch to see
If concerned I seem to be
Nothing more I need to hear.
Christmas Day is drawing near!

TODAY Is The Day

Copyright 1937 Central Press — By CLARK KINNAIRD

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1

Once Upon Dec. 1st.—It is most unlikely in these days that the son of a high member of the Administration in Washington would go to jail for anything. Most particularly not for undisciplined conduct on the high seas, with sailors on U. S. ships now doing about as they please.

Yet, 95 years ago today, Midshipman Philip Spencer, the son of the encumbent Secretary of War, was hanged at the yardarm of the U. S. S. Somers for inciting mutiny Two other members of the crew were hanged with him.

The Somers, a brig, was on its way from Monrova, Liberia, to Annapolis, Md. by way of St. Thomas, Virgin Isles, when a steward, one Wales, reported to the captain, Alexander Mackenzie, that Spencer had sought to enlist him in a plot to get possession of the vessel. Spencer proposed to turn pirate, to kill all those who were not useful and willing to join, and steer for the Isle of Pines, a rendezous of buccaneers and freebooters.

Capt. Mackenzie could hardly believe this but nevertheless had Spencer watched. The midshipman was noted studying charts of Isle of Pine waters. He was detected in secret conference at night with Bosun F Cromwell and Seaman E. Small. A coded list of crew members was found in his locker. Confronted by the skipper with his evidence, Spencer admitted approaching Wales, but declared his proposition was a "joke."

Mackenzie placed Spencer, Cromwell and Small in irons. In the next few days, insubordination increased among the crew, so instead of attempting to carry his prisoners to land, the captained ordered an immediate trial by the other officers of the ship. After hearing evidence all day, without pausing for food or rest, the officers unanimously decided the accussed three should be put to death. The law of the sea permits no delay. The captain had ropes strung from a yardarm, and informed Spencer of his fate.

The youth first broke down in tears, then recovered and cooly asked to be shot. This request was denied, the captain holding that giveness of Small and Cromwell for Spencer had forfeited the right to be treated as an officer and gentleman. When he found there was no

Treat Colds This PROVED Way

WHY experiment? Vicks VapoRub has been doubly proved for you . . . proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind; further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (See full details in each VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you such proof.

VapoRub is the direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no risk of stomach upsets. Simply massage it on the throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Relief starts almost at once. You begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub starts working direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time, its medicated vapors—released by the warmth of the body—are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break local congestion.

Repeat treatment at bedtime. After restful sleep comes, VapoRub keeps right on working, hour after hour. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Celebration At St. Andrew's Episcopal Church On Tuesday Evening

CHURCH BUILDING NOW 29 YEARS OLD

Tuesday evening a memorable event took place in St. Andrew's Episcopal church, when members of the Junior Guild of the institution entertainer at a tea in commemoration of dedication of the church building 29 years ago. The church, located at the corner of East Long avenue and Belmont street, is a bright spot on the South Side that has well served its purpose.

The hostess group, the Junior Guild, was organized November 5, 1931, and their party last evening was indeed something of which to boast. The social rooms were decorated in keeping with the season especially for the event, and guests attended numbering a hundred and upwards. Mrs. Arthur Owens was winner of the handsome door prize.

Program Given.

A program was given as the opening feature, the first number, a trio composed of Jeanne Hartland, Leanna Morgan and Marian Butler who sang "Sweet Sue". Following, Gloria Pauline gave a piano solo and a vocal solo, "Little Boy Blue", was contributed by Esther Trent. A recitation entitled "Thanksgiving" was given by Eva DeMase. In conclusion, an interesting historical account of the church was related by Jacob C. Hetrick, superintendent of the Sunday school.

The parish was organized April 1, 1901, in what was known as Hughes Hall, at the corner of Mill street and East Long avenue, by the late Rev. Charles Tyler. The first rector to take charge of St. Andrews was the Rev. T. B. Clark, who came to New Castle in July, 1901. Presiding as the first executive committee were the following: Rsv. Tyler and the Rev. Clark, who headed the organization. Jacob C. Hetrick was vice-president; Joseph Nicholas, secretary; David Jinks, treasurer. Other honorary members included Albert Jinks, Albert Nicholas, Dr. T. V. Williams, Thomas Phillips, James W. Jones and Jordan Bailey.

On February 16, 1902, a congregational meeting was held to decide on the purchasing of a lot on which to build a new church. It was built at the corner of East Reynolds street and Howard way, which was a small frame building. This was dedicated as St. Andrews Mission and the first service was held in the church June 1, 1902. A vested choir of 30 members sang the hymns with Edwin Ellis, now deceased, as the organist.

Secure Larger Building.

On June 30, 1907, the second congregational meeting was called for the purpose of getting a new and larger building erected. The committee for this project was made up of Charles and John Woodcock, John Amos, Isaac Ellis, Harry Ayers, Joseph Nicholas, C. L. Snyder, Dr. T. V. Williams and J. C. Hetrick.

Money was raised from June until September 30 of 1907, when a lot was bought at the present location and the church, which still stands, was erected.

The first service in this building was on October 7, 1907. At this time, the Rev. R. G. Roscamp, deceased, was the rector. The lay readers were Thomas More, C. L. Snyder, Frank Felton and Charles Marshall. On the eighth of November in 1908, the first meeting was conducted in the Sunday school room, and on Tuesday evening, November 30, the dedication took place with Bishop Israel and Bishop Whitehead of Pittsburgh in charge. They called it "St. Andrews Chapel". The various rectors in charge from time to time are: Rev. Roscamp, Rev. J. R. Vaughan, Rev. W. W. Ridgway, Rev. G. A. Golding, Rev. G. L. Grambs, Capt. Robert Becker of the Church Army and the present rector, the Rev Samuel Black.

Executive committee members of the church are J. C. Hetrick, T. J. Evans, Arthur Owens, Chester Hetrick, George Cowden and William H. Evans. Mr. Hetrick of Arlington avenue has served on every executive committee the church has ever had for the past 29 years. He also has the distinction of being the only Sunday school superintendent, to whom much credit is due for his faithful guidance.

There has been but three choir masters in the church, Edwin C. Ellis, Harry Ayers and William H. Evans. Organizations in the church today are identified as the Woman's Guild, St. Andrews Junior Guild and the Young People's Fellowship.

Large Force Working On New Power Plant At West Pittsburg

Every day in every way the steam power plant of the Pennsylvania Power Company at West Pittsburg is becoming a reality and within the next twelve months there will have arisen an imposing structure, one which will have with machinery, cost approximately, $2,800,000.

Some days ago one section of the main plant floor, or slab was poured. When the concrete ceased pouring the slab was five feet thick and contained four miles of pipe which will contain electric lines.

Yesterday a News reporter witnessed the Pumpcrete pour concrete for the floor in the screen-house and quite a record was established. In fact, 1,500,000 pounds of concrete was poured.

This information was derived from Chief Engineer Perry.

As the concrete poured in, more than a dozen workmen labored amid almost darkness, levelling it off. In fact, it was so dark one man next to the other could scarcely see him.

The work is decidedly dangerous for those men. They are counted as they enter the screen house and at different times the chief engineer, personally, makes an inspection, to see they are safe.

The concrete is pumped from a plant overlooking a huge cavern-like hole where the main plant is to be erected. At this plant is a huge mixer, operated electrically.

When properly mixed and heated, the concrete forced by the Pumpcrete through pipes at a fast speed. The pipes extend to the screen house where the mix is discharged then levelled by half dozen or more rugged workmen.

Between the screen-house and the section where the main plant will be, is a Clear-well tank, 43 feet high and with a circumference of 29.12 feet.

Water will be drawn from the Mahoning river into the condensers in the screen-house after which it will flow into the clear-well tank which already has been erected and welded.

A huge stack is also to be erected.

In fact, one who has not seen the progress there, has no idea of the immensity of what is planned.

When one approaches the plant he sees scores of automobiles, all owned by the employes, 150 of whom are at work on a three-shift per day plan.

There are electricians, carpenters, men in charge of the Pumpcrete plant and a staff of engineers and clerks.

There is plenty of steel work to be done and when the proper time comes the booms will swing huge girders to be placed by man.

And material—

Everything that is being used in the mix, stone, gravel and sand, is coming from this district; likewise other materials that are needed and is available in this district is being secured.

The plant, a $2,800,000 affair, will furnish electricity for this district and shows the faith of the Pennsylvania Power company in New Castle and Lawrence county.

able to bear it must bear it most, for poverty breeds illness.

The persons of poor circumstances may have a friendly physician who will wait for his money (and oft-times does not get it—something that would not occur under governmental supervision), but then there is the hospital.

Hospitals cost money to operate. Under our present higgledy-piggledy system they cost a great deal more than if they were under one general supervision. They must get this money back to exist. As a result, many a person is deterred from taking a needed step to build his health or save his life.

It is a wretched condition. It is a disgrace to such a great country.

And foolish legislatures and governors even add to that disgrace. In the state in which I live there is a tax on medicine. I have seen a person pay as high as 60 cents tax on one prescription. I believe that such inhuman torture of the poverty-stricken ill is unconstitutional; but even if it is not, it is morally and socially unjustifiable.

Is it any wonder that many people give up hope when they become ill?

Cities Present Their Pleas On 44-Hour Week

Tell State Authorities New Law Will Cost Taxpayers Of Cities Many Millions

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 1.—Strict application of the new 44-hour week law to Pennsylvania municipalities and boroughs will cause budget increases totaling millions of dollars, local officials charged today in requesting the state industrial board for a year's "grace" period with which to conform to the act.

At a conference with the board, the cities—first, second and third class—and the boroughs, in turn testified that bringing municipal workers under the act would throw budgets out of line and necessitate levying of increased taxes.

Besides the 12-month "grace" period, local officials applied to the board for complete exemption for policemen and firemen under the act. They said the political subdivisions they represented were willing to place their other workers under the law within the year.

Speaking for the third class cities, Walter A. Greenwood, of Coatesville, told the board the municipalities were deprived of "their day in court" because Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti had not ruled on the status of the municipal workers until a week ago.

Coal Prices Set By Commission

National Bituminous Coal Commission Fixes Minimum Prices At Mines

TO BE EFFECTIVE ON DECEMBER 16

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Facing criticism from the utilities for the minimum at-the-mine prices it promulgated for the soft coal industry east of the Mississippi, the National Bituminous Coal Commission pushed forward today to proclaim similar prices and marketing regulations for the rest of the industry.

The minimum prices and marketing regulations decreed today, affecting 80 per cent of the industry, will become effective December 16.

Minimum-at-the-mine prices for various types of bituminous used in homes were reduced from five to 15 cents a ton. Mine prices for types of bituminous used by the rails and other utilities, were increased five to 20 cents a ton.

Under the Guffey-Vinson act the commission was set up to establish a code to stabilize the soft coal industry. Operators who adhere to the code will pay a tonnage tax smaller than those who refuse to participate.

Price Ranges

Minimum price ranges, at the mine, fixed for the 13 areas covered by today's order included:

District 1 (Eastern Pennsylvania)—Domestic lump, $2.60 to $2.90; egg, $2.50 to $2.80; nut and pea, $2.30 to $2.60; railroad fuel, $2.15; industrial slack, $2.10 to $2.40; stoker coal, $2.30 to $2.60.

District 2 (Western Pennsylvania)—Domestic lump, $2.20 to $2.50; egg, $2.05 to $2.35; nut and pea, $1.95 to $2.25; railroad fuel, $2.15; industrial slack, $1.56 to $1.86; stoker coal, $1.95 to $2.25.

District 3 (Northern West Virginia)—Domestic lump, $2.20 to $2.50; egg, $2.05 to $2.35; nut and pea, $1.95 to $2.25; railroad fuel, $2.15 (off line) to $2.15 (on line); industrial slack, $1.56 to $1.96; stoker coal, $1.95 to $2.25.

District 4 (Ohio)—Domestic lump, $2.10 to $2.40; egg, $1.90 to $2.25; nut and pea, $1.80 to $2.15; railroad fuel, $2.15; industrial slack, $1.41 to $1.76. (No stoker coal produced).

Local Statement On Situation

N. J. Love, secretary of the New Castle Coal Merchants Association, in discussing the action of the national commission this afternoon, said that the prices set are misleading to New Castle consumers. "Although minimum prices set by the commission as effective December 16, which must be observed at the mine are contained in the announcement, the prices in effect today are approximately 20 per cent higher, with prospects of still increased price in the near future. Extreme cold weather will influence prices, as well as the law of supply and demand. Minimum prices set today will not affect the local price of coal at the mine except on some inferior grades of coal."

Dorothy Fuldheim Heard Here Again

Temple Israel Audience Enjoys Second Message; Two More Due

AGAINST THIRD TERM FOR F. D. R.

"Death—not life—begins at 40 when we say that men over 40 years of age are no longer of any use," Dorothy Fuldheim, brilliant woman lecturer told an audience that gathered in Temple Israel Tuesday night for the second of her series of four lectures on current subjects under the auspices of the temple's sisterhood. Last night's theme was "America—The Future."

"This notion, this cruel idea that men are of no value to the world after reaching that age is one of the greatest and saddest problems where unemployment is concerned," the speaker said.

Unemployment Challenges

She said unemployment is "the greatest challenge of our period" and went on to classify its branches. She maintained, however, that the "Yankee genius" that wooed and won this continent, would overcome the obstacles ahead.

Mrs. Fuldheim believes America must be saved from those outside, those nations which would involve us in European and Oriental entanglements. She believes that it is absurd to resign ourselves to the belief that depressions must come, and she also feels that future generations will know a "sustained security"—where depressions won't follow booms.

Against F. D. R. Third Term

"For America's sake," the speaker continued, "I hope the next president is a Republican. Then I hope the next will be a Democrat—and the one after that a Republican. It will be best for the country if it goes that way—for two parties, always on guard against the other, will make for better things."

Mrs. Fuldheim declared that she believes President Roosevelts reelection for a third term would be "unwise." "It would,," she concluded, "shatter a wholesome tradition of America which has saved us in the past."

Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger introduced Mrs. Fuldheim and announced that she would return to speak again January 13.

STATE EMBARKS UPON NEW LABOR EXPERIMENT

ation classifications for three industries.

In the specific variation classifications, the rules laid down for newspaper publishing and the canning industry were outstanding. Since the statute was first enacted by the 1937 legislature, its effect upon the publishing industry has been the basis of widespread discussion.

The canning industry is of such a marked seasonal nature its application for deviation from strict compliance was the first considered by the board.

Many of the manufacturing industries of the commonwealth, including steel, public utilities, and oil and gas production, will come under a general regulation decided upon by the board for "continuous operation." It permits operation on a calendar day and calendar week, providing workers have a rest period of eight hours between successive days of work. Whether other specific regulations affecting these groups will be laid down by the board was not determined.

Protect Small Proprietors

Protection for the small proprietor has already been provided by the board in a general ruling permitting employers of three or less persons to operate six nine-hour days per week.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti declared the state would welcome a court test of the act's constitutionality. Many persons, including Mayor S. Davis Wilson, of Philadelphia, have called for such a test but declined to take the initiative.

Added to the thousands of requests for variations and exemptions under the board's consideration, was the request of municipal and borough officials for one year's "grace" period and total exemption for firemen and policemen. At a conference here yesterday, most of the local officials stated they were willing to place the remainder of their employes under the provisions of the act.

Crux of the municipal representatives' contention was that strict compliance would raise their operating expenses thousands of dollars per annum and necessitate tax increases.

Variations Granted

Specific variations granted by the board were:

Newspaper Publishing—In any period which requires employment in excess of eight hours a day in order to prevent a sudden unreasonable termination of service to the public, employers may permit employes whose work is directly connected with such period to work additional hours in any one day, but not to exceed 44 hours in six days in any one week, provided that in towns of 50,000 or less employes may be permitted to work 48 hours per week in six days. All hours worked over eight hours in any one day during such period shall be paid for at the rate of one and one-half times the regular rate per hour.

Canneries—Employers may employ persons in excess of the hours specified provided that workers shall be paid time and a half for time worked over eight hours a day; that employes shall have a lunch period in each five hours employment; that application for permission to apply the privileges extended under this regulation be filed annually by each establishment at least 30 days in advance of the season. Together with a statement indicating the regular wage scale.

Banking and Brokerage Institutions—Banking and brokerage institutions shall be permitted to average 50 hours (instead of 44) per week over a 13 week period beginning December 1, 1937. Such hours of employment shall not exceed ten in one day or 54 in one week. This shall apply only to employes paid on an annual salary basis.

"LIKE HAVING A NEW STOMACH," SAYS LOCAL MAN

Undigested Food Lay Like A Weight In His Stomach. Belched Hot, Sour Liquids And Filled Up With Gas. Feels Better Than In Years Since Taking Vendol, He Says.

THE VENDOL MAN

"Mine was certainly a bad case, for my stomach had troubled me for a long while and nothing helped until I tried Vendol," said Mr. John Fulmer, well known resident of 353½ E. Washington St., New Castle, and caretaker of the Odd Fellows Hall, to the Vendol Man at New Castle Drug Co., where he is meeting crowds daily and explaining to them the merits of the famous Root, Herb, and Alkaline medicine Vendol.

"My food lay so heavy in my stomach it felt as if I had swallowed a weight, and the gas was so bad my heart would burn and I would double up with cramps. I'd belch hot, sour liquids and could taste my food for hours after a meal.

"Often dizzy spells would come over me and I would have to stop what I was doing till they passed off. Then, too, I had a terrible ache in my back that tortured me day and night.

"I was always constipated and tried many laxatives, but I never got good bowel movement until I took Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets, then I found that my digestion improved so much it was like having a new stomach. I never have a dizzy spell any more, and thanks to Vendol's mild diuretic action on my kidneys the backache has left me. I am truly grateful to Vendol and give it my full endorsement."

Come and see the Vendol Men at New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St., and learn how Vendol can help you. Vendol is also sold by New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St., Schweitzer's Phcy. and Ellwood Cut Rate in Ellwood City, and by all other leading druggists everywhere.

Start Organization Of District In Vicinity Of Bessemer For Scouting

A forward step for more effective Scouting was taken Tuesday evening at Bessemer. The Lawrence County Boy Scout Council has decided to divide the County into four Scout districts to center about Bessemer, Ellwood City, New Wilmington and New Castle.

Tuesday evening, 19 enthusiastic Scouters met at the home of Don King, to form a district committee to function in the territory around Enon Valley, Mount Jackson, Bessemer and Hillsville.

At the meeting were: Messrs. McComb and Gadzia from Hillsville, Rev. Shumaker and Messrs. Spears and Reed from Mt. Jackson. Messrs. Kookich, Samsa, Wallace, Brenten, Standish, Chaddock, Martin, King, Dearment, Young, Griffin and Rev. Engle, from Bessemer.

It was decided that the district committee would be composed of three representatives from each troop, plus a member at large. The district committee will supervise all Scouting in their own locality and will have direct representation on the executive board of the Lawrence County Council.

Officers elected included: James H. Martin chairman; Rev. E. A. Shumaker, vice chairman; Lee McComb, secretary. Various sub-committees will be appointed later.

JOIN John Q. Homeowner AND MAKE YOUR OLD FURNACE AUTOMATIC

Please Yourself and Family By Installing A Whiting Stoker

John Q. Homeowner never liked his job of firing the furnace. He represents thousands of homeowners who are now installing Whiting Stokers in their furnaces because they want automatic heat without increased cost.

Completely Automatic—Costs Less

The Whiting Stoker quickly makes any furnace completely automatic. No more hand-firing! No more dusty ashes to be carried out! You fill the hopper with coal once every day or two (at any convenient time), remove a small circular clinker a few times per week . . . and forget your furnace and heating system.

Even house temperature is maintained at any desired level all winter long without any adjustments or further attention. Housekeeping becomes easier, for Whiting Heat is clean. There is no smoke, grime or soot.

So efficiently does the Whiting Stoker burn coal and regulate the heat supplied that its operation costs less per year than the drudgery of hand-firing.

Coal Most Practical Fuel for Home

Automatic Heat no longer requires expensive fuels. The Whiting Stoker burns coal, because coal is the cheapest and the safest fuel for the home.

Come in . . . Let us demonstrate the Whiting Stoker. It can be quickly installed in any furnace at very moderate cost . . . and small monthly payments can be arranged to suit your budget.

HOW IT WORKS

Hand-firing a furnace is irregular...sometimes too much coal on top of the fire, too much or too little draft. The Whiting Stoker maintains a clean-burning fire at all times. Coal is fed automatically in small amounts through the bottom of the fire with the proper amount of air to burn completely.

Servants Get Consideration

McIntyre Finds Some Establishments Where Servants Live In Ease

BAD EYESIGHT HANDICAPS MANY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The great mansions along Fifth and Park avenues' fabled Gold Coast have what they call "servants' halls" instead of the more lowly term of employees' quarters. Indeed, a number are almost baronial in their appointments, even to roof patios with fountains.

O. O. McIntyre

In the big residences the servants' hall is almost a separate establishment. Aside from sunny individual rooms, there is a rest room with comfortable divans and chairs. And there is a library and music room where the radio and late phonograph records may be heard.

All is made so pleasant that many of the servants do not care to leave, even on their evenings off. There is one imposing castle north of the 90's on Park that not only has its own dining room but also separate cook and waitresses who serve the help.

With the growing reluctance of many to enter domestic service, new homes are making especial gestures toward servant comfort. There is very little in the way of living ease denied. Indeed as things are, such servants have fewer worries than employers.

Adolphe Menjou surprised his New York friends recently by his physical appearance. For a time he looked as though he might be playing hookey from a graveyard. As the result of a stomach malady, he had become shriveled, sallow and wan. So much so that only the art of the makeup made it possible for him to be screened. About a year ago he underwent an abdominal operation which was successful. Since he has taken on 30 pounds in weight, the bloom has returned to his cheeks, his eyes are bright and sparkling and his step has the dash of the cavalier roles he so often portrays. For several years he lived on bran, graham crackers and sips of tepid water. Today he can tear into a five-inch steak with trimmings and do right well by it.

Gertrude Lawrence is one of the "hello everybody" girls of the cafes, too. When she enters a place strangers are likely to get a warm greeting, for she takes no chances on an astigmatism causing offense. Without glasses most faces a few steps away are a bit blurry, so she bows to all. Fifi Widener Wichfeld is another completely lost without her lorgnette. Unless she has it in use she can walk into a room filled with friends and not recognize a soul. A most democratic lady, for years she was, until her affliction became known, regarded as a snob. The captivating Betty Starbuck is one of the blind-without-glasses girls who has to do a lot of explaining to keep some of her friends she passed without even a glance of recognition. But perhaps the worst victim of all is Libby Holman. She, incidentally, was first, according to an optical journal, to wear glasses that fitted over the eyeballs.

I've frequently wondered what Manhattan maid is the greatest head-turner when entering a cafe. As a rule it is the one most publicized. For a long time Peggy Joyce—and where is she now?—stopped the buzzing and pivoted everybody in chairs when she swept in. Libby Holman, too, had her day. But of late Elsa Maxwell appears to be the top head-turner. She is easily recognized because of her bouncing figure and gait and the fact that she never indulges formal evening dress. Incidentally, Miss Maxwell has added lustre to her versatility in a writing role. Editors say her biography in Harper's Bazaar is the wittiest scribbling effort of our time.

Walter Chrysler's son-in-law, Byron Foy, only a few years removed from the Texas farm, has become one of the town's polished men of affairs. Those who know say that although he worked for his wife's father he started from scratch—and has been entirely on his own, winning a top post solely by hard work and good judgment. And in white tie and tails in the boxes at the Horse Show and Metropolitan, he suggests one of Noel Coward's super-sophisticates.

One of the friendly idiots who sneak up behind a fellow, tweak his leg and then bark like a dog was loose near Grand Central today and worked out on me. I tried to laugh it off in the upper register, ha, ha, but I had to go to a phone booth and phone the house to see what they sent me out for.

Criticism For Housing Plans

House Banking Committee Opens Hearings On Roosevelt's New Housing Project

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—President Roosevelt's new housing program, designed to put billions of dollars to work, was subjected to sharp bipartican criticism as hearings opened before the house banking committee Tuesday.

In the face of attacks on provisions of the Steagall bill, embracing the plan, Administrator Stewart Mc Donald, of the federal housing administration, vigorously defended it.

Chief attacks were:

1. Both Democratic and Republican members questioned soundness of requiring home builder to pay down but 10 instead of 20 percent of cost to obtain insured mortgage.

2. Rep. Fish (R) New York, declared that program would fail unless proposed 5 per cent interest rate is cut to 3½.

Lions Club Votes Annual Yule Party For County Blind

Blind Work Committee Will Pick Dinner Date; Other Business Up

New Castle's Lions club voted yesterday to sponsor another of its Christmas parties for Lawrence county's blind residents sometime during the Christmas holiday week.

Roy F. Conway, chairman of the blind work committee, and his fellow members were instructed by President R. Loy Boyd to pick a date and commence arrangements. Mr. Conway also presented his customary report on work among the sightless and near-sightless folk.

The Lions devoting their meeting to business voted $5 to the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis society's Christmas seal campaign, and made plans for its bowling team to play Butler Lions club on Friday evening, December 4. Reports were made by committee heads.

Present as a guest was Mike Gregory, a member of the Pelham, N. Y. Lions club. He spoke briefly.

Threatens Teacher With Big Knife In New York School

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Forty pupils sat in terror Tuesday while they watched an unruly, 15-year-old Negro boy draw a knife and menace his teacher.

When Frank Long, came to class with a long stick, the teacher, Benjamin Price, told him to put it down.

"Try and make me," challenged the boy.

Price stood the youth in a corner and warned him if he didn't behave he would be sent to the principal.

"If I go to the principal you'll be carrying me," replied Long, drawing a switch-blade knife and flourishing it.

While the room sat tense, another pupil in the rear slipped out and called police. Patrolman Joseph Consolo disarmed Long and took him to children's court.

Straus-La Guardia In Verbal Battle Over Slum Clearing

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Nathan Straus, United States Housing Administrator, and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York, Tuesday engaged in another "long distance" cross-fire of verbal fisticuffs over the administration of the proposed $500,000,000 slum clearance and low-cost housing program.

Upon receipt of another telegram from LaGuardia urging that projects begin without further delay, Straus declared he would continue to pursue his policy of making haste slowly and invited the fiery New York mayor to sit in on his next conference, Dec. 7.

Youthful Slayer Placed On Trial

(International News Service)

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Dec. 1.—Heavy-eyed from confinement, fattened by jail fare and still callous to his alleged crimes, 18-year-old Paul N. Dwyer went on trial Tuesday for the slaying of elderly Dr. James G. Littlefield whose wraith-like wife was strangled on a macabre automobile ride that followed the murder of her husband.

Dwyer, so-called "shiek" of village dance halls, was arrested several weeks ago in North Arlington, N. J., when a night patrolman poked a flashlight into a parked and darkened automobile where the youth was sprawled asleep. The flashlight revealed the lifeless form of Mrs. Littlefield and Dwyer then directed the officer to examine the car's rear compartment where the battered body of this town's "country doctor" was found.

In 1860, before Czar Alexander II instituted redistribution of Russian land, eight out of every ten inhabitants were "bound to the soil" under the serf system

Urges Business Men To Enter Politics

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 1.—American business men today were urged by Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corporation, to emulate Bruce Barton and go into politics as a means of halting further government encroachment in business.

Weir did not mention Barton, the advertising man recently elected to congress, by name, but he asserted government in business was here to stay and that business men should therefore get into the government by seeking posts in congress and the lower political subdivisions.

"Business men should accept the fact that government is in business and probably will be in business to some degree permanently," Weir, a vigorous opponent of new deal policies, told the chamber of commerce.

"On this basis, business men should set about doing all within their power to shape the effect of government upon economic activity so that it will work for and not against the great objective—which government and business shares—of higher living standards for America.

"It would not matter one way or the other which political party elected them. The important thing is that trained business viewpoints would be brought to bear on governmental actions affecting economic activity. The old feeling, once widely held among business men, that politics is dirty or a waste of time, certainly has no validity now."

Weir charged the government was costing Americans one fourth of their national income and lashed out against what he termed the "collectivist" policies of the Roosevelt administration.

Deficit For Year May Be Billion

Current Industrial Recession Will Increase U. S. Deficit

PRESIDENT MUST REVISE ESTIMATE

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—The Federal government probably will roll up a deficit of more than $1,000,000,000 this fiscal year as a result of the current industrial recession.

This was the consensus today of many administration economists, members of congress who handle appropriation bills, and non-partisan financial experts of the commerce department.

In his last budget summary issued October 19, President Roosevelt estimated this year's deficit would be held to $695,000,000. This calculation was based on the forecast that revenues would soar to $6,650,000,000, a rise of about $1,400,000,000 above 1936. Expenditures were figured to run about $7,345,000,000, or $650,000,000 less than a year ago.

Must Revise Estimates

That there will have to be a revision of these estimates when Mr. Roosevelt submits his next budget statement to congress in January is conceded by informed officials.

Many fiscal experts are of the opinion that the treasury will lose between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 in taxes as a result of the business slump and stock market upheaval.

This loss will become apparent next March 15 when first quarter income tax payments come due on 1937 earnings and the deficit will rise by the amount of such loss.

Another item which may raise the expenditure column is the perennial problem of relief.

More W.P.A. Funds Needed

With factories shutting down as a result of the current slump, demands for more W.P.A. money are being heard in and out of congress.

Should business fail to turn upward during the next few months it seems likely the administration will be forced to ask for a deficiency appropriation for relief amounting to several hundred millions.

President Roosevelt's program to stimulate housing construction will deprive the treasury of another $50,000,000 during the present fiscal year.

While this sum, which is to be used to launch a new housing administration, will be classified as an investment instead of an expense, the money will come from the funds the R.F.C. is receiving on its loan repayments. Normally this money would come back into the treasury.

All these items indicate a deficit of $1,145,000,000 by the end of next June when the present fiscal period closes. Should congress approve additonal appropriations for this year, the deficit would increase correspondingly, although the president warned such action would necessitate compensating taxes.

To Get the Best Cough Remedy, Mix It at Home

Quicker Relief. Big Saving. So Easy. No Cooking.

This famous recipe is used by millions of housewives, because there is no other way to obtain such a dependable, effective remedy for coughs that start from colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough remedy, far superior to anything you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of severe coughs, giving you double-quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Register and Recorder-elect Orville Potter has filed an expense account at the county commissioners office, showing that he expended $454.47 in his campaign. Of this amount $200 was an assessment by the Republican county committee. Arthur B. Foster, candidate for school director, and T. C. Rainey, candidate for alderman in the second ward, have filed expense accounts, showing that they expended less than $50.

Israel Myers has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against the Mutual Life Insurance company to recover $304.65 which he alleges to be due on a disability clause in his life insurance policy. The policy, for $5000, was taken out on May 21, 1924, and was made payable to Esther Myers. It provided for double indemnity in case of accidental death, and for disability payments before the age of 60. The plaintiff was 46 when the policy was issued and the regular premiums were $230.70, which included $20.10 to take care of the disability feature. In March, 1936, the insured became disabled, and payments to him were started by the company at the rate of $50 per month. They were paid regularly until May, '37, when the payments ceased. According to the plaintiff the premium payments on the policy were to be waived during the time that disability payments were being made.

Judge James A. Chambers has filed an opinion at the prothonotary's office in the case of Harold M. Leach, agent for Elrick H. Scarazza, against W. H. and Luella Cooper, in which a rule to show cause why a judgment should not be opened is discharged. The case is of interest to both real estate agents and tenants, as it involves the right of a wife to sign her husband's name to a lease.

In this case judgment was entered on warrant of attorney contained in a lease for a house at 304 Vine street, on which the monthly rental was $20. The affidavit of default showed three months due or $60. Mrs. Cooper had signed the lease and also placed the name of her husband on it. She tendered a check signed by Cooper for the first month's rent. This was delivered by Mrs. Cooper to the agent, as well as similar checks subsequently made by Cooper. When it came to a dispute over back rent due Cooper testified that he did not know his wife had signed his name to the lease until the execution was issued. He said he had not authorized his wife to sign his name. Mrs. Cooper corroborated him.

Judge Chambers, in his opinion, says that if this evidence entitled Cooper to relief the judgment should be opened, but he was of the opinion that it did not constitute a defense. He held that it is the duty of the husband to maintain the family. The first step is a place to live. The presumption of the law is that when a wife undertakes to find a home, she is acting as agent for her husband. He knew her mission and gave her the check with which the first month's rent was paid.

He took possession of the house, received the benefits and paid the four subsequent months rent. Under this situation Cooper is not entitled to relief. In support of his position Judge Chambers cited a number of supreme court decisions in similar cases.

Nineteen Soviet Diplomats Must Now Face Trial

Five Ministers Included In List Of Diplomats To Face Special Tribunal

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Dec. 1.—Nineteen Soviet diplomats, including five ministers, will appear before a special Moscow tribunal in about two weeks, charged with treason and "Trotskyism," the newspaper Express Poranny reported today.

This paper, in an undated dispatch, claimed reports that Soviet Ambassador Y. H. Davtian, former envoy to Poland, has been executed are untrue. It stated, however, that he will be one of the chief defendants at the trial.

A striking example of the thoroughness of Stalin's purge of the diplomatic corps was cited by Polish newspapers.

Hunt Evidence

A seven-day search of the Soviet embassy here ended yesterday, the press declared. Agents of the O. G. P. U. ripped every inch of wallpaper from the walls, tore up the entire floor and stripped every piece of furniture of its upholstery in search of incriminating documents.

Several cases of seized papers were dispatched to Moscow for examination, it was said, and the entire embassy staff with exception of Boris Binohradov was ordered to return to the Soviet capital.

A former Soviet diplomat traveling through Warsaw told reporters that 72 of the diplomatic and consular officials ordered to return to Moscow during the present drive had refused the order.

AROUND CITY HALL

It is not yet known how soon Solicitor William D. Cobau will deliver an opinion to council relative to the possibility of the city recovering money paid as rent to persons on property to which the officials claim the city holds title. It is probable that council will press for an early opinion. It has not yet been stated how many instances of collections have been discovered.

Approximately one month remains until the new fiscal year for the city begins. Council must compile appropriations for 1938, then post a copy of the appropriations for 20 days for the consideration of the public. As yet council has not stated whether or not they plan to provide appropriations for new equipment.

City policemen would like to have the bunkroom, built recently by the WPA, turned over to them as a waiting-room. They point out that their quarters on the second floor of the city building annex are far from ideal.

---

Officials of the Interstate Amiesite company, have advised the city they will repair a portion of Garfield avenue as soon as conditions become suitable, next spring. The "mix" was laid when weather was not suitable, officials state.

---

Twice recently a man from out-of-town, who apparently didn't want to work but wanted to imbibe too freely then spend his nights in the city jail corridor, was taken into custody. He was ordered out of town yesterday and to make sure he left, the man was placed in a police car and hauled miles distant outside the city and left on the highway, being instructed by the police not to return.

Finance Director James L. Fink served as acting mayor yesterday. However, he had nothing much to do, insofar as police affairs were concerned. Two men who were charged with driving while intoxicated were given into the custody of alderman and two "plain drunks" were discharged.

New Hospital Beds Installed

New Furniture Also Placed In Many Of Rooms Of Jameson Memorial Hospital

No hospital bed was ever entirely satisfactory. Not because the bed was wrong but because you were not in shape to enjoy a bed. But, allowing for the fact that hospital beds are used by people who need medical ministration, it's still a fact that the new beds recently installed by the Jameson Memorial Hospital are built for real rest.

Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, managing director of the hospital has completed the installation of new bedroom furniture in 30 rooms, 18 of them on the third floor and 12 on the fourth floor. Included in each set is a new hospital bed with improved Gatch spring, an overbed table to replace the old fashioned bedside table which swung over the bed, a modern bed side table, a dresser, a mirror, and a chair.

The furniture is especially designed for hospital usage and is done in a warm color. The mattresses are the finest that can be bought and insure a maximum of comfort.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Train Holdup Is Disastrous

Southwestern Bad Men Glad To Be Surrendered To Police After Beating

GUN LAW GIVES NO PROTECTION

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Except for the unfortunate killing of Brakeman W. L. Smith, the recent attempted stick-up of a railroad train near the New Mexico-Arizona line had about as gratifying an outcome as the average law-abiding citizen could have provided for if he had been permitted to arrange, in advance, the whole program.

I know three or four G-men.

G-men, generally speaking, prefer not to have the victims of an inter-state outrage administer their own on-the-spot justice. As G-men, they like to to see the miscreants temporarily get away with their dirty work only to be run down ultimately by the G-outfit, which thus gets a lot of credit and advertising for its efficiency.

Nevertheless, my G-acquaintances have to admit that that New Mexico-Arizona affair was a fine triumph for law-and-order.

ROBIN HOOD STUFF

There is something romantic about a successful train hold-up.

Even though the desperadoes may be cornered after a long chase and perish in a furious gun-fight, they have had a run for their money. For example, Jesse James and the Youngers were extinguished finally, but they go down in history as a certain sort of Robin Hood heroes.

That's what enrages the G-men and prosecutors—the semi-glorification of outlawry.

UNDIGNIFIED

However, there is nothing glorious to a bandit in having the tar whaled out of him by his intended victim, to be captured by the latter, to have his plunder re-possessed from him, and then to be turned over to the nearest sheriff, so dilapidated that he has to be hospitalized before answering criminal charges.

Such a career is not calculated to win him many imitators.

And such was the fate of those two New Mexico-Arizona would-be train robbers.

They didn't so much as put up a formidable scrap. Brakeman Smith was killed, but it was by an accidental shot. The chief robber wasn't punctured by a bullet. He had his feet kicked from under him by a Negro passenger. After which the other infuriated passengers and trainmen licked the two to a pulp and surrendered them—and mighty thankful to be surrendered—to the local police at the next station.

From an outlaw-rish standpoint it distinctly was undignified.

Certainly there is nothing in it to inspire imitation.

ENCOURAGEMENT

I have my own notion that our civilized community's tendency to discourage the possession of firearms is an encouragement to armed criminality.

In my youth it was assumed that every head of a family would keep a gun. To carry one, concealed, was prohibited. But it was not a strictly observed rule. As a western newspaper reporter, when I was 20 or thereabouts, I have had the chief of police say, casually, "Hey, Charley, your pistol shows." Whereupon, I adjusted my coat over it.

"No guns," is a regulation which peaceful citizens have respected.

It's a a regulation which never influenced an outlaw.

Nice folk have been disarmed. Thugs, not a bit of it.

CONSTITUTIONAL

One of the best discouragements of outlawry in the U. S. A. has been a No. 10 repeating shotgun in our best citizenry's hands.

Says the U. S. Constitution:

". . . . the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

If it hadn't been infringed against good citizens, I doubt that it would have been infringed by bad ones. If the hold-ups on that New Mexico-Arizona train hadn't infringed it, I surmise that they'd have been licked, as they were, without killing a brakeman.

U. S. railroads now have 300,000 obsolete cars in their rolling stock, the American Car institute reports.

Feast Of Lights Is Being Observed

Channukah In Progress; Temple Israel Sisterhood Plans Children's Party

On Sunday evening of the coming week, the eight days of Channukah will end. This Jewish festival is known in English as the Feast of Lights or Dedication because it commemorates the deliverance o f the Jewish people from the Syrian-Greek culture of 2100 years ago. In the synagogs, the ideals of religious liberty and human brotherhood are stressed.

Central in the home celebration is the lighting of a nine-branched Menorah, or candelabrum, one candle the first night, two the second, etc. Gifts and dainties make Channukah an important holiday for the children. Parties and games and the remembering of less fortunate persons are the order of the week.

Channukah takes its name from the fact that the ancient Temple in Jerusalem was purified and rededicated to the service of God. Judas Maccabeus is the figure most intimately connected with the festival, for it was he who led the struggle against enforced Greek idolatry. Timely in the light of present-day world conditions is the biblical verse from Zechariah which is read in the Synagog during Channukah: "Not by might and not by power, but by My spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

The Sisterhood of Temple Israel, as is their annual custom, is giving a Channukah party to the children of the Religious School at one o'clock, Sunday, December 5. Gifts will be exchanged and a short skit presented. Beatrice Sandler is directing.

On Friday evening at the Sabbath services, an open forum on the Partition of Palestine will be conducted. The purpose is to acquaint the congregation and its friends with this very important event in Jewish life. The congregants will be invited to participate in the discussion.

Late Bishop Had Immense Fortune Appraising Shows

(International News Service)

BUCYRUS, O., Dec. 1.—Six appraisers set to work today to figure out the value of the estate left by William Montgomery Brown, Episcopal Bishop who was deposed because of his writings on communism. It was said to approximate $525,000.

Most of the estate of Brown, who died several weeks ago, was in Cleveland real estate while $110,000 remained in trust in the estate of Mary S. Bradford, mother of Brown's wife. Income of the estate was estimated at $15,000 annually.

Judge Keller named Edward Bushnell, Cleveland, and Clara B. Manzer, of Galion, Brown's home town as executors.

Included in the bequests was a fund for the promotion of communism, but it was doubted the bequest would ever be realized since most of the real estate is owned jointly by the estate and two unnamed persons.

Asks Constitutional Test Of New 44-Hour Week Law

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 1.—Attacking the act as "clearly unconstitutional," Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia on Tuesday afternoon asked state officials to delay enforcement of the new 44-hour week law an additional 30-days—or until February 1, 1938.

Wilson, speaking before the state industrial board and municipal and borough officials assembled in special hearing here today, called for an immediate constitutional test of the new law. The board granted employers a month's "grace period" beyond December 1, legal effective date of the act.

"The act is clearly unconstitutional and the sooner we have a test case on it the better it will be for all interests concerned," the Mayor said.

"I ask that the state officials extend the effective date of the act for an additional 30 days to give the courts an opportunity to decide the matter and allow industry to make necessary adjustments.

"The new law would work a hardship on all groups concerned. It would work a hardship on Pennsylvania industry because other states do not have hour limitation laws; it would work a hardship on labor generally in that it would deprive workers of overtime pay.

"The only answer in my mind would be for congress to enact a uniform law for the entire country. As far as Philadelphia is concerned we can make adjustment and put the law into effect within 30 days."

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti had ruled the act to include municipal and borough employes, resulting in the hearing, representatives to which crowded the house of representatives chamber, to consider possible variations.

Detroit Man Found Slain In His Auto

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 1.—The body of Lester Weisman, 45, missing since he left his home to collect rents a week ago, was found stuffed in the rumble seat of his automobile Tuesday.

He was killed by a knife wound in the back, police said. His body was covered with a sheet of canvas and a piece of corrugated cardboard in the rumble seat.

Ralph Weisman, the dead man's brother who owns the houses for which Weisman was collecting rents, said he believed Lester was slain for the $100 or $150 he was believed to have been carrying.

Argentine Exports Up 65 Per Cent

Meat Trade Largely Increased Since Shortage In United States

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—A 65 per cent increase in value was registered in Argentina's exports for the first nine months of 1937, which totalled 1,871,049,000 pesos ($623,700,000 at the official rate of exchange) as compared with 1,133,776,000 pesos ($377,930,000) in the corresponding period of last year. In quantity Argentina's exports rose 52.8 per cent, amounting to 15,054,000 tons this year against 9,851,000 tons in the first nine months of 1936. This was the greatest volume of shipments in any similar period in Argentina's history, while the value of the nine months exports was the greatest in the past ten years.

A feature of the export trade was the increase in all branches of the meat trade, notwithstanding trade barriers which had been expected to curtail Argentina's shipments. Beef exports in the nine months period totalled 314,966 tons against last year's 296,130 tons; sheep and lambs amounted to 38,924 tons against 36,922 tons; pork, 6,902 tons against 6,759 tons.

Exports in the month of September totalled 1,305,054 tons with a value of 158,109,336 pesos ($52,710,000) which compares with 1,212,220 tons worth 147,708,134 pesos ($49,270,000) during August and 1,649,800 tons valued at 160,968,202 pesos ($53,660,000 in September of last year.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Kiwanis Members Shown Progress In School Methods

Vaughn R. DeLong Conducts Interesting Program Of Educational Advancement

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 1.—Vaughn DeLong, in charge of last night's program held in the Lutheran church, presented to the Kiwanis club a most unusual and interesting program. School day memories were revived as Miss Lillian Russell, first grade teacher in the Hartman school, and six of her pupils reproduced the actual daily routine class work. Seated before a blackboard were Jackie Butler, Sammy Morrow, Millicent Bloom, Jane Cahill, Dianna Nocera and Ruth Jubach. Cards displayed, such as run, walk and fly to various colors were ready by the children and the part enacted as the colors were selected. Miss Russell illustrated by sound and lip movement how new words are formed and shaped in the minds of the pupils. Story books embodying the words used in the lesson were readily read by the children. The program illustrated the rapid advances made in education during the past few years.

Special guests were Mrs. Vaughn DeLong and Bill Talbot of the Junior Kiwanis.

Next week's meeting has been changed from Tuesday to Monday evening to permit the newly elected officers to attend the officers training school at Coraopolis on Tuesday evening.

Work of filling and grading has been completed on the former bed of the Harmony right-of-way leading from Fombell to Zelienople. This road being one of the farm to market projects, provides a shorter outlet for residents of this section connecting with the Perry highway at Zelienople. Being above the flood level of the Connoquenessing creek, the hazards and inconveniences of high water are eliminated. Utilization of the road bed provides a substantial savings in grading and filling.

Miss Louise Barton, chairman of the public relations committee, had charge of the evening's program and introduced the speaker. Mr. Barda, in his work in connection with the Department of Industrial Relations of the National Tube Company has been making a sociological study of Ellwood City. He stated that the study of sociological aspects of a town is very engrossing because a community is an organism, in that it grows, it can be sick and it can decay. Ellwood City is a progressive community, the speaker continued, and at present there are no dangerous symptoms from a sociological standpoint. Ellwood is a young community and is rather unique in being made up of a large percentage of young people. One serious deficiency in Ellwood City is the lack of industrial employment for women.

H. R. Smith, secretary of the Ellwood Building and Loan association talked about Building and Loans and explained how they function to help people build homes. He stressed the fact that the associations are sving organizations as well as lending organizations.

Boyd Barrett, associated with an insurance agency, gave a talk about National Association of Life Insurance Underwriters, and explained how the local organization help to bring about a better understanding of insurance in the community, and help to create cleaner competition between life insurance agents.

JAPANESE GIVE EXPLANATION OF FLAG INCIDENT

aerial attack forced nine Nuns and 150 refugees to flee for their lives. The refugees are still missing, they said.

What action French authorities would take as a result of this report was not revealed, but it was believed some sort of protest would be made.

Craft Returned

The seizure of the Feiting had particularly aroused Americans here because of reports that the Japanese sailors had flung the American flag into the muddy, fetid waters of the Whangpoo river after hauling it down from the vessel's masthead.

Simultaneously with seizure of the Feiting, the Japanese took possession of two Italian tugs, the Romolo and Lido.

Today, however, as this incident was cleared, all three craft were returned. The Feiting steamed back to its anchorage off the bund flying two new American flags.

Apologetic Japanese officials informed United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss and other American authorities that when the Feiting was seized, owing to a mistaken suspicion regarding its true ownership, the American flag was not deliberately thrown into the river. It was the result of a bad catch, they said.

Guess was informed that when one Japanese marine hauled down the flag, he tossed it—or tried to toss it—to another marine. The latter missed it, however, and the flag fell into the river.

The Japanese explained the marines then carefully retrieved the flag from the water.

"Showed No Disrespect"

Thus, according to a Japanese spokesman, the Japanese showed no disrespect for the American flag. Further, in explaining reasons for the seizure, he emphasized Chinese-owned ships flying foreign flags were liable to seizure, and that Japanese officials had been suspicious about the Feiting.

Following return of the vessels and the Japanese explanations, it was reported, American and Italian authorities agreed with the Japanese that the affair could be considered "closed."

The attack on the orphanage—another instance in which noncombatants have fallen victims to this war—seemed likely to result in serious repercussions. Whether the holy see would intervene in the matter was not known here.

The two priests admitted the orphanage, which was situated alongside the home of General Chang Fah-Kwei, Chinese commander on the southern military sector, flew no flag, whereas the Carmelite Mission and the Lazarist Seminary, both nearby, flew French flags and were not bombed during the attack.

They said that when the bombs started to fall, the orphanage sisters herded their charges into dugouts on the mission grounds. One bomb, however, scored a direct hit on a dugout, killing 26 girls between the ages of nine and fifteen. Another direct hit on the orphanage creche killed 60 babies.

Flee Into Interior

When this happened, said the priests, the sisters took the remaining 150 orphans and refugees aboard a junk and fled up the Yangtze river into the interior. They have not been heard from since.

This story of bleak horror and the aftermath of the incidents involving seizure of the American and Italian tugboats completely overshadowed the progress of the Japanese armies in the battlefields to the west in general interest here.

Nevertheless, Japanese commanders in Shanghai announced that Japanese planes, ranging far inland, had bombed and destroyed a Chinese military headquarters near Hangchow, the interior city where part of the Chinese government fled after abandoning Nanking.

At the same time, Japanese sailors here set fire to a line of junks which had formed a protective boom in the Whangpoo river.

The Japanese apologies and explanation, which apparently American authorities officially accepted without question, followed vigorous protests to the Japanese regarding seizure of the Feiting lodged by Consul General Gauss. The Italian ambassador also protested. Japanese Consul General Okamoto thereupon undertook an investigation which resulted in today's reply.

GREAT BRITAIN MAKES PROTEST ON SHANGHAI

functioning of the Chinese maritime customs and the service of foreign loans secured by the customs revenues."

The foreign secretary's declaration coincided with an anti-British campaign in Japan; an official Japanese threat that Hongklong might become involved in the Chinese struggle; and the warning of General Sir Ian Hamilton that Japan is marching towards Singapore and India.

Similar representations had been made by Washington and Paris, with insistence that western powers be consulted in any projected changes in the Shanghai administration.

Closely coupled with anxiety over the Far East were efforts to find a new security structure for Europe.

Japan Also Gives Warning

Tokyo, Dec. 1.—Japan tonight warned Great Britain that "harboring" of Chinese government leaders in Hongkong "might eventually involve Hongkong in the current Sino-Japanese dispute."

Semi-official dispatches said the Japanese consul general in Britain's crown colony called authorities' attention to the number of Chinese officials who have recently entered and left Hongkong "while engaged in political activities against Japan."

The consul, it was stated, asked "complete supression" of Chinese activities; otherwise "further tolerance" might involve Hongkong.

This direct warning to the colony's government came in the midst of the most bitter anti-British campaign in many years.

For weeks the Japanese press has been full of charges that England is Nippon's "real enemy" in the Far East.

Hongkong, it was alleged, is the bottle neck through which great quantities of munitions and money are pouring to the assistance of China.

Hong Kong, Dec. 1.—A large force of Japanese troops has landed at Chekkai on the Kwangtung province coast in South China, it was reported unofficially today.

The report was brought here by Dr. Harry Blaber of New York City, who arrived at Hong Kong from Taishan. He said one Japanese cruiser and four destroyers supported the landing party at Chekkai, which is situated near Macao, Portuguese base.

Authorities here have not been informed officially of the reported invasion.

COURT OPINION IN PER CAPITA TAX CASE GIVEN

warrants for 1935. Costs of the proceedings are placed on the defendant tax collector.

The preliminary injunction was secured by the plaintiffs representing themselves and other Pulaski tax payers after distraints had been made by Moore and his deputies and some personal property had been put up for sale. One of the questions upon which the court was asked to rule was whether or not the tax collector and his deputies could collect taxes by distraint, and further whether the defendants had by appropriate action laid grounds for a sale.

Further Question.

There was the further question as to whether costs might be recovered by the levying collector; also may non-resident collectors be appointed. The school board had given Moore the right to engage deputies, and he had employed N. D. Kisbaugh, Jesse Smith, George Wilson and Lloyd Smith as deputies. These deputies were non-residents of the township, but residents of Pennsylvania, comprising a firm of collectors in Luzerne county, Pa.

After calling attention to the school code and other laws, Judge Braham concludes that per capita taxes may be collected by distress, but there is no law authorizing the addition of costs to the delinquent tax and penalty which may be collected by distress. By this it will be seen that there would be nothing with which to pay collectors or deputies.

It is further held that demand must first be made upon a taxpayer before any levy on personal property can be made. Printed notices posted and addressed to all taxpayers in a district, advising them delinquent taxes are to be collected by distraint is not such a demand as will authorize a collector to levy upon property of any taxable. After a levy is legally made advertisements of a proposed sale must be posted, and the collector or deputy cannot buy in the property.

Judge Braham's opinion is a very exhaustive one, going into all features of the powers of tax collectors. It covers some 20 pages of typewritten manuscript. It means that he has the right to distrain but must first give personal notice to each taxpayer and proceed regularly according to law.

The significant feature of the opinion is that neither the collector nor deputies can collect any fees. This will probably have a far reaching effect as compensation for work is usually desired.

STATE BANKING SECRETARY HERE

inet of Governor George H. Earle on January 1 to assume the city treasurership of Philadelphia. With him today is W. M. McKee, director of the division of closed banks for the state. There are no closed banks in New Castle so that there was little to do here.

Commenting upon the present recession in business Dr. Harr said, "it is a critical time, one that calls for wise leadership and management not only upon the part of the Federal and state governments but upon the part of industrial and business leaders."

Before entering the cabinet of Governor Earle, Dr. Harr was a professor in the Wharton School of Finance and treasurer of the Stern publications

Court House Lawn Squirrels Are Preparing For Winter

Let the goosebone prophets and the weather experts go on predicting what the weather will be during the coming winter months. Come warm or cold, wet or dry, the squirrels on the court house lawn aren't going to be caught unprotected.

For the past few days the squirrels have been gathering the leaves and small twigs from the court house lawn, filling their mouths full and then scampering up the tree to the boxes provided for them.

There's no forty-four hour week, nor time and a half for overtime connected with it. They stop for a moment when they are hungry and grab off a few kernels of corn and then back to work.

By now the boxes must be packed nearly full of leaves and twigs and when the wind sings through the trees later in the winter season, the squirrels are going to be safe against the blasts. Their house won't be air conditioned but it will be mighty warm.

So keep regular. And to assist Nature, use Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets! ### WANTED OLD AND NEW STONINGTON, Conn.—This town wants its cake with double helpings. The federal government through the Public Works Administration has approved a grant of $101,250 for a new school. The town said OK. Then the government showed officials the clause that said they must tear down the structure. "No" chorused the town officials. "No" chorused government officials—you can't have your cake and eat it.

Alabama Will Play In Rose Bowl On Jan. 1

California University Picks Southern Team For Rose Bowl Opponents

WANTED PITT, CAMPUS REPORTS

By JOHN D. HANLEY
International News Service Sports Writer

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 1.—A poll of the players on the undefeated University of California football team disclosed today they had unanimously endorsed selection of undefeated and untied University of Alabama as the Golden Bears' opponent in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's Day.

And it would be hard to find a tougher one.

In 1926 Alabama whipped the powerful University of Washington team led by George Wilson, 20 to 19, and returned the following year to Pasadent to tie Stanford 7-7. In 1931, led by the versatile Dixie Howell, the Tide crushed Washington State 24 to 0. In 1935 'Bama tacked a 29 to 13 defeat on Stanford.

Fifth Appearance.

Thus it will be the fifth appearance of Alabama in the bowl since the classic started back in 1916 and never a loss.

Although the players and Coach Stub Allison were generous in their praise of Alabama, it was no secret on the California campus that the Golden Bears' first choice—the players' choice—was Pittsburgh whose unbeaten Panthers turned thumbs down on a "feeler" bid.

But it did not receive an "official" invitation as it is not the custom of the far west's football champion to risk refusal of an official invitation.

Thus, Graduate Manager Kenneth Priestley of California was confident late yesterday when he picked up a telephone for a long distance call to H. G. Crist, Alabama athletic director, at Tuscaloosa.

Priestley was more certain because earlier Sugar Bowl officials at New Orleans announced that Santa Clara and Louisiana State would agian serve their New Year's football dish.

Fordham In Cold.

It was believed Alabama had spurned that invitation, holding out for the more lucrative Rose Bowl bid.

Fordham's Rams, who tied undefeated Pitt, was considered the east's No. 2 team apparently did not even receive a "feeler" bid to the Rose Bowl.

As against Alabama's undefeated record in Rose Bowl contests, the Golden Bears have scored one victory at Pasadena but suffered one defeat and one tie.

In 1921 California's "wonder team" smothered Ohio State 28 to 0. The following year the Bears were held to a scoreless tie by Washington & Jefferson. In 1929 Georgia Tech nosed out the Bears 8-7.

Although Santa Clara enjoyed an undefeated and untied record, the Broncos never were mentioned as the Rose Bowl candidate because officials of the Pacific Coast conference do the selecting and it is a traditional custom that the conference winner is nominated.

Fordham Gloom Is Thick Today

Fordham Had Expected Rose Bowl Bid This Year, Put Moleskins Away

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Gloom, so thick you could slice it with a knife, hung over the Fordham campus today.

Failure of the greatest eleven ever produced on Rose Hill to get the bid to play California in the Rose Bowl keenly disappointed the Rams. Their reaction to the selection of Alabama to represent the east was one of everlasting despair—if the Rams can't make the annual New Year's Day classic with an unbeaten eleven, they probably never will.

Put Suits Away

Having failed to receive the most coveted of all football invitations, they packed away their moleskins today. It was Rose Bowl or nothing, according to Graduate Manager Jack Coffey. He added:

"Fordham congratulates Alabama upon its selection. I'm sure Frank Thomas' team will maintain the high standards of Rose Bowl play."

Coach Jimmy Crowley hid his disappointment with:

"Frank Thomas is an old and good friend of mine, and since Fordham didn't get the Rose Bowl invitation, I'm glad Alabama did."

Father John W. Tynan, S.J., faculty moderator of athletics, in an official statement for the university said:

"There is little for us to say. In California's opinion, the better team was selected. We applaud the choice."

Alabama generally had been regarded here as second choice behind Fordham.

TO OPEN SEASON

The Young Yanks will open the basketball season Saturday morning at senior high with a practice session. All players are to report at 9:30 o'clock. Games are desired with all junior teams in the city. For games call 1814-M and ask for Charles. Games are wanted with the Catholics, Hoods and West Side.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

One of the All-American picker's hardest jobs this year is that of finding adequate backs in the Big Ten....selecting between Jim Mconald of Ohio State, Corby Davis of Indiana, Cecil Isbell of Purdue and one or two others is not so easy.... there were not as many consistently great backs in the conference this year as in other seasons when Pug Lunds, Benny Friedmans, Chick Harleys and Red Granges were romping in western pigskins pastures.

Coaches selecting all-star teams haven't done very well by the Big Three this year....one such committee, consisting of eastern, southwestern, western and Pacific coaches named only one Big Three man on the first two teams, and that was Clint Frank of Yale. There was no one from Harvard, and not a bark for Princeton. And not a soul from dear old Dartmouth, either!

Two captains of Big Three teams, however, Clint Frank and Charles Toll, (Princeton) have selected for this writer "the best players seen in action this season as a teammate or opponent." Clint Frank picks the following stars: Struck of Harvard, halfback; Green of Harvard, end; McLeod and Hutchinson of Dartmouth, backs; Davis of Dartmouth, end.. Kevorkian of Harvard, tackle; Mountain of Princeton, back; McLaughry of Brown, back; Gallagher of Yale, center; Miller and Hessberg of Yale, backs; Nee of Harvard, guard; and Toll of Princeton tackle.

Captain Charley Toll of Princeton chooses the following player: Holland of Cornell, end; Peck of Cornell, back; Taranovitch of Rutgers, back; Kevorkian of Harvard, tackle; Nee of Harvard, guard; Green of Harvard, end; Struck of Harvard, back; Howe of Dartmouth, back; Davis of Dartmouth end; Frank of Yale, back; John of Yale, tackle; Colwell of Yale, back; Gallagher of Yale, center; Fike of Navy, end; and White and Mountain of Princeton, backs.

You may be interested in knowing what opponents the Pitt players deem worthiest. Captains are appointed at Pitt for each game, so a concensus of players was taken for the Central Press Captain's All-American team, which will appear soon in this newspaper. The Panthers regarded most respectfully the deeds of the following opponents; Ends, Sweeney of Notre Dame, and Platukis, of Duquesne; Tackles Beinor, of Notre Dame and Doyle of Nebraska; Guards Atty of West Virginia and English of Nebraska, Center Wojciechowicz, of Fordham; Quarterback Kopcsak, of Carnegie Tech; Halfbacks Dodd of Nebraska, and Harrison of Penn State; Fulback Principe of Fordham.

Captain Joe Zwers of Notre Dame names one Minnesota player and four Panthers on his All-American. The Gopher is Van Every, a sophomore who has been a consistently great back all season. The Panthers are Souchak, end; Matisi, tackle; Raskowski, guard and Goldberg, back. Joe also liked a Carnegie Tech tackle named Campbell and a pair of Illinois linemen, Brewer and Castelo.

Captain John Druze, of Fordham names four Pitt players, too. They are Goldberg, Stebbins, Matisi and Souchak. Druze also selects Cecil Isbell, great Purdue left halfback, whose All-American chances were dimmed because of Boilermakers defeats. Two Texas Christian players were honored by Druze—Quarterback O'Brien and Tackle Hale.

Alabama Happy Over Selection For Rose Bowl

Student Body Plans Almost Mass Migration To Pasadena On New Year's Day

(International News Service)

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 1.—The student body today planned almost a mass migration to the west coast for the University of Alabama's fifth appearance in Pasadena's Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Impromptu celebrations and snake dances spotted the campus last night as word spread swiftly that the Crimson Tide had once again been selected for the football classic.

Coach Frank Thomas, it was said, promptly cancelled all engagements in Chicago and planned to start back here at once to resume practice for the undefeated, untied eleven.

Henry Crisp, athletic director, who received the invitation by telephone last evening, said simply:

"We are indeed happy to return to the coast again and look forward to playing California."

In winning the title of the 13-team Southeastern Conference, Alabama sailed through the early part of its schedule but ran into plenty of trouble in downing Tulane, 9 to 6; Georgia Tech, 7 to 0, and Vanderbilt, 9 to 7. It was because of these close calls, turned into victories in the last minutes of play, that some doubt hung over the campus about the team's selection.

Discover Rare Case Of Mirror Writing Ailment

(International News Service)

BATON ROUGE, La.—One of the rarest ailments in medical history, that of mirror writing, was revealed here recently when a 21-year-old negro farm laborer, Johnny Thomey, of Baker, La., placed his signature on an application card.

Thomey had applied at the Louisiana state employment service office here in quest of a job. Told to sign an application card, Thomey affixed his signature. When members of the office force tried to read it they were uncertain of its meaning. They did some medical research and found that the scribble was that of a mirror writer.

Legibility is perfect when the writing is held up to a mirror. Thomey was examined by an eye specialist, and was pronounced normal except for his unusual method of writing.

Johnny is the only left-handed member and the only mirror writer in his family.

HARVARD PREXY URGES FINANCIAL AID TO STUDENTS

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—A belief that universities should select their students in order to give the poor boy and girl an equal chance with those better off financially, was held today by Dr. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard University.

Addressing the Kansas City Harvard Club, Dr. Conant outlined his scheme for picking the students best fitted for higher education during their last years in high school. Cost of their education could be paid through scholarships, he said, or if necessary, by taxation.

"We should provide all a good education, at least through high school and probably a couple of college years," Dr. Conant said, but added that those students now struggling to work their way through college were the highest type and "we can afford to bet heavily on them by paying all their expenses of education."

Verbal Plea For Mrs. Hahn Denied

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 1.—A verbal plea for stay of the execution date, set for March 10, for Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn was denied Tuesday by Judge Charles S. Bell who said he had no authority for such action.

Following the rejection of the request, counsel for Mrs. Hahn indicated they would have a statement later in the day concerning alleged "sensational developments" which would shift the blame for the death of Jacob Wagner, 78, to another woman.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

This question about to be asked is offered in sincere thought and we would appreciate any answers . . . please sign your name and address as you will understand as this column goes on . . . If you are or know any artists within the city of New Castle or the County of Lawrence that have some work on hand (real artists, not children) would you kindly inform this column? . . . here is the idea in mind . . . we know of two or three people in town that have in their lifetime painted some very fine works . . . it is not their job but their hobby so to speak . . . we would like to get these folks together and maybe we could have a small art exhibit . . . maybe you won't believe it but we do have some mighty fine talent in town . . . they (the artists) should be made known . . . so if you will be kind enough to furnish any information you think worthy of your time . . . please do so at once . . . thank you.

* * *

Tonight at seven o'clock the newly organized Camera Club will hold its first meeting . . . we are informed that the young ladies interested in this sport are welcome to the organization.

* * *

The Christmas spirit is getting better and better each and every day . . . the Christmas clubs sent out their checks this morning . . . so there is a little extra money on hand . . . just what will happen to the Tin Mill we can't say but we hope things work out for the betterment of New Castle.

* * *

Every once in a while someone from our fair city leaves and with the idea of their own importance try to make big time shows . . . they usually return with big whopper stories of how much they made here or were offered there and what a great time they were and maybe are having . . . after they have talked for a while they always come around to the point "can you spare, say fifty cents, my show doesn't open until next week" . . . it very seldom fails . . . they will also say how much they hate New Castle . . . but my friends they are always willing to come back for three square meals so don't pay too much attention to their cry of woe . . . there are many places worse than New Castle . . . don't forget that and in case you don't agree . . . try some others.

Stock Market Trading Slow

Prices Ease Slightly In Apathetic Trading In New York Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The stock market eased fractionally in apathetic trading today.

A few pivotal issues lost a point or more, but these were in the minority. Chrysler in the motors, American Smelting in the coppers, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, Libbey-Owens-Ford, Sears Roebuck and American Can were included in this group.

Steels were fractionally lower, including U. S. Steel and Bethlehem, the latter having been up a point for a short time after its opening.

Slight losses were shown by rails, utilities and farm implements. Oils and rubber shares were mixed and quiet. Rail equipments displayed a relatively steady tone.

Gold shares were in demand, particularly Dome which moved a point higher to 48. McIntyre and Alaska Juneau added large fractions to previous closing quotations.

(International News Service)

ST. MARY'S, Pa., Dec. 1—Vice President John Nance Garner shot a four-point, 150 pound buck here today on the 10,000 acre estate of Colonel William Kaul—but natives shrugged their shoulders at the feat, and remarked:

"They're too tame. They keep 'em tied up like cows."

The vice president's trophy was the first shot by any of the group of Democratic leaders who are accompanying Garner on his hunting trip here, arranged by United States Senator Joseph F. Guffy. The party arrived in St. Mary's early today in two Pullmans and a lounge car.

Included in the group were Senators Dietrich, of Illinois, Minton of Indiana, Radcliffe, of Maryland, Schwellenbach, of Washington, Duffy, of Wisconsin, Truman, of Missouri Murray of Montana, Herring, of Iowa, and Russell of Georgia.
